MIKE WOODSON PRESEASON MEDIA DAY

Opening Statement

I've always felt as a coach, every season that I've gone in as a head coach, expectations are always high, no matter what.

I think that's a good thing.

We can't run from it. It's what it is.

I think our schedule that we've scheduled this year has put us somewhat in that light in terms of competition, really stiff competition, and then you've got to deal with the Big Ten, which is stiff every year.

Expectations are always going to be high. When I came in here and took the job, expectations were high. This program is built that way, and it should be that way.

It's what it is, man. I'm not going to run from it, and I'm not going to let my players run from it. There's a lot of big things that's got to happen this year for our ballclub, and I'm going to try to coach them up and push them in that direction.

Q. On Xavier Johnson...

WOODSON: Well, that's all behind us. He's gotten through that process. He would have to do some community service. X has grown a lot, based on the things that he's done this summer. He's put himself in a wonderful position with me being the coach that I like everything about what X is doing now, because he is doing the right things on and off the court.

He doesn't have a vehicle anymore. I took that away from him. (Laughter).

If that's punishment, it's punishment, and I don't mean that in a negative way. We're just trying to do the things that are necessary to help us win basketball games, and I think he's made a major step in that direction to help us.

Q. On Johnson's consistency...

WOODSON: Well, when you look at what happened to X, where we started with X and where he ended up, X probably caught more hell on this team than anybody from his head coach.

There's a reason why. I think when you're building a basketball team, you expect a lot out of all of your players, but that position is a pivotal position in terms of how you play on both ends of the floor.

X hung in there with me. He fought me at times, but it worked out well for him at the end and for our ballclub.

Watching him go through his summer work, because he did taste some success, it's the first time he had experienced being in the big dance, he really -- I mean, he just came in with a totally different attitude, which was kind of nice to see. It means to me he's growing up.

It has displayed nicely on the basketball court, because out of all the summer play that I've watched and been a part this summer, he's probably been the brightest of them all.

Q. On being in the college game...

WOODSON: Well, the one thing that I've learned, being in the NBA all those years and coaching, there's really not enough time to prepare and teach and really be a part of a player's life because you've got three, four games coming at you a week in the NBA. There's just not enough time in the day.

That's the frustrating part about the NBA. But it was a beautiful run for me. I'm not saying that in a negative way. The NBA was great for me. But coming back home to coach college basketball here at Indiana, I've been able to really be around the players and really be -- I'm able to coach. I'm able to prepare and teach all the basketball floor, things that I like to do.

Then when you see the results -- we had our ups and downs last year, but I thought our ups outweighed our downs. We played a lot of positive basketball. We were in a lot of basketball games. It's just going to be up to me to get them over the hump and get them to the next level because that's what it's all about.

Q. On the 3-point shooting...

WOODSON: Well, that was a big problem last year. You guys witnessed, as the media outlet, and our fans, too, but I thought we got a lot of good looks. We were in the top -- being in the top 5 in college basketball in terms of open threes that we just didn't knock down.

I'd like to think Miller having a taste of what Indiana basketball is all about now, I think he'll be a lot better this season. Xavier showed that he could make them.

I think some of the freshmen that we're bringing in will be able to knock some of those down.

Race kind of picked it up from previous years, a guy who really wasn't allowed to shoot them. He made some for us last year.

I think we'll be okay in that regard this year. It's not like we're not working on threes. We shoot them every day. We shoot free throws every day. It's just when you get to a game situation, you've got to feel comfortable and ready to knock them down.

That's my job, to relax them and get them in that position.

Q. On the upcoming NBA Pro Day...

WOODSON: Well, I think when you've got high expectations and you've got a few players that might have a crack at playing at the next level, it's okay to invite the NBA world into your life. I'm not afraid of that. I don't think it put any added pressure on our players.

I think they are excited about it really, to be able to let the NBA world come in and watch practice and see who's doing what. Hell, it might enhance them to play harder and better. That's kind of how I look at it.

I'm looking forward to it. It's something that's never been done here, I don't think, and I've got to keep my ties with the NBA world anyway. I've got a lot of friends at the big level. It will be nice to have them come in and watch what we do.

Q. On embracing expectations...

WOODSON: Well, again, the rankings is a part of college basketball, all sports in college. You can't get from under that. Hell, my senior year we were ranked No. 1 in the nation. Didn't work out that well for me. I mean, we didn't win the national title.

Rankings are what they are. You've still got to play the game, my man. That's what's important, and what happened between these two lines.

MIKE WOODSON PRESEASON O&A

It's going to be my job to get this team to play at a level every night and put them in a position to win every time they step out on the floor. That's what it's all about to me. Rankings are what they are. I don't know what we're ranked this year. Somebody told me we're ranked in the top 20. That's great. But you've still got to play the game.

That's how I approached it as a player. I think some players it's nice to see, because some of these guys hadn't been ranked since they've been here, but they are now. So, let's go play the games and see what happens.

O. On Teri Moren and the women's basketball program...

WOODSON: She's a hell of a coach. All you've got to do is look at the results and how her team has responded to her body of work on the floor. Watching her team, her team is a beautiful team to watch because they do all the necessary things to win basketball games, and that's a sign of Teri and the work that she's put in.

I'm not surprised that they're ranked. They deserve to be ranked. Hell, they led the Big Ten sometime last year at the top. I expect that they'll be there again this year.

I'm wishing them nothing but the best.

Q. On Trayce Jackson-Davis...

WOODSON: Well, again, I'm not going to stop him from doing that. He'll be in a position where he catches it out there and have an opportunity to shoot it. If he shoots it, fine.

You know, everybody looks at this thing where he's got to be a three-point shooter. I think if he makes a 15 to 17-foot shot, it's just as effective. That's kind of how I look at it.

He's going to be in position to shoot those shots like the little L ball and the free throw shots, and it's okay for him to shoot it.

I think this summer, the work that he's put in, he's shown that he can make that shot, and he has made them in our little pickup games and things of that nature. He's just got to carry it over to the real game when it counts.

I thought one of the biggest shots of the season was in the Big Ten Tournament against Illinois, where he faced up Kofi and he shot a jump shot. Well, he's going to have to do that some more this season. Coach is not telling him not to; put it that way.

Q. On learning on the job...

WOODSON: I've got to get better. I always put pressure on myself. I don't put it on the player. Yeah, the player has to play, but I've got to get better at finishing games, because I thought there were a number of games, I left out there last season in terms of we controlled games -- I look at the lowa game, coming down the stretch, four and a half minutes and we're up nine and we can't close that game out.

For me, that's tough to swallow as a coach.

So those are things that I've got to go back to the drawing board and work on to the point when I'm in that position, I get them over the hump, and we're coming out of that game feeling good about ourselves.

I don't know; coaching is coaching. There are a lot of things that come into play when you're coaching. When I look at the college game and how it's being played, a lot of pick-and-rolls, a lot of three-point shots, the teams that sit at the top really get after you defensively.

I think we've got to be able to do all those things to be able to compete at a high level and beat the big-time teams. I mean, that's what it's going to take this season because that's pretty much how the college game is being played.

Q. On Jackson-Davis' leadership...

WOODSON: We talk. He knows expectations are high this year. The fact that he made the commitment to come back is huge for our program. I mean, it's like the piece to the program.

I think the body of work that Trayce has put in over the three years that he's played here has been unbelievable. But he's still got a lot of work on the table. He's got a lot of things he's got to finish.

You talk about legacy; legacy is putting another Big Ten title in here. Legacy is putting another national title. That's what it's all about. I think that's what he's thinking about more than anything.

As far as his leadership, he's making strides in that area to help lead because that's what's going to be expected of him. I'm not going to let him run from it. He's got to be our leader. He's got to push guys around him and hold guys accountable, and he's got to step up and be the guy.

I mean, that's what it's going to take for us to reach those two goals.

Q. On what makes this season successful...

WOODSON: Again, I don't look at it in that light. My thing is I take a season one game at a time, one practice at a time. Yes, we've got goals. I can't say this loud enough, guys: I came back here to win Big Ten titles and a national title. That's all I want.

I'm not going to push the team in any other direction. If they're scared of that challenge, then they shouldn't be here. That's kind of how I look at it.

I'm not scared of it. You shouldn't be scared of it. We've got to do this together as a unit. Again, I know expectations are high. I get that. That's a good thing. But we've got to go out and do it on the floor and show that we can win a Big Ten title and a national title. That's all I'm concerned about right now.

The only way to do that is get better each and every day in practice, and when we step on the floor that we're playing at a high level.

MIKE WOODSON PRESEASON Q&A

Q. On Jalen Hood-Schifino...

WOODSON: Well, again, I don't put pressure on none of these freshmen. But on the flipside of that, I've got to speed the process up. They can't play like freshmen. I'm going to need those guys to be a big part of what we do.

I always have told players; you can't play everybody 30 minutes a game. It's the minutes that you get that you've got to make the most of. If it's two minutes a game, it had better be the best two minutes that you play out on the floor for us, because if you don't, I might not come back that way.

Everybody has got to be ready to play. Schifino has been a great addition to our ballclub because he can do a lot of things on the basketball floor. But he's got to be held accountable to play at a high level and help us win basketball games. I'm going to need him to do that.

Q. On the schedule...

WOODSON: To win. That's the only thing I'm expecting. As soon as we start here with Marion in the practice game, that's when it starts to me. Whenever there's officials and we throw that ball up, I expect us to win.

Yeah, we've got some stiff competition this year with Xavier and Carolina and Kansas and Arizona. Hey, it's what it is, man. Hey, we've just got to be ready to play and compete and win.

I'm not pushing anything else. We cannot run from the schedule The schedule is what it is

Q. On the freshmen...

WOODSON: Well, they've had their ups and downs. They've gotten a whiff of who I'm about a little bit. But the beauty about the four freshmen that we brought in, they're very, very competitive, and that's a big part of growing as an individual player.

Because if they were non-competitive, boy, I would be very disappointed. But they are competitive. They don't like to lose.

I shared this story with you when we first started. They couldn't beat the first unit that I had out on the floor. They would go home with their heads hung and down and disappointed, and I called them in after one practice, and I said listen, there's going to come a time where you're going to beat that unit.

Well, it's been kind of back and forth ever since those first two weeks. So they've been very, very competitive. They're trying to do all the necessary things on and off the court in terms of school, which is first and foremost.

But I like how they're competing, and that's what makes coaching fun for me.

Q. On Miller Kopp...

WOODSON: Well, he's very coachable. In the big league, we call him a true pro, because he listens and he tries to do all the things that's asked of him.

I think he's trying to be more of a leader. Miller has been around a while, too, and I'm going to need him to lead and hold guys accountable as well as himself.

But I like everything about Miller. I've just got to get him making some shots for us.

I thought his defense last year was phenomenal. I mean, from where he started, when people thought he couldn't really defend, he was one of our best perimeter defenders last year, which was kind of nice to see

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Bob Knight

"We are all very pleased to have Mike Woodson as the person in charge of our program. He will do an excellent job. He will be an outstanding disciplinarian and teacher working with his team. I've never known a better person that Mike. He is just a great man."

Calbert Cheaney

"I think it's a wonderful hire."

"He's a great coach with a wealth of experience, including a wealth of NBA experience. I know he understands Indiana basketball. He played there. He's been around the program for many years. He's always come back even though he's been in the league. He understands Indiana basketball."

Jared Jeffries

"I love it. Woody's an amazing coach."

Eric Gordon

"Mike is a great hire by Scott Dolson. He's an Indiana guy and has competed at the highest level as a player and as a coach. Very excited for Coach Woodson and the men's basketball program."

Jordan Hulls

"I've always been thankful for Scott Dolson and appreciated him even since I was at IU. I know he's trying his best to make the best decision for the program. Having a former player like Coach Woodson, it means a lot. Maybe I'm biased because I grew up knowing everything Indiana Basketball, but I think it'll be great having someone that can bridge the IU tradition that he helped build with the younger generation as he's had a lot of experience at the NBA level — where every kid wants to go. Kids/recruits will have a unique opportunity to absorb all of what he's been able to do/learn at the next level, and apply it to college game."

Brian Evans

"Much like Coach Woodson, I grew up in the state of Indiana, rooting for the Hoosiers and dreaming about playing in Assembly Hall. As former players, we share a passion and enthusiasm for Indiana Basketball that would be difficult to measure. Woody knows exactly what Indiana Basketball means to our state. He gets 'it'...I'm looking forward to seeing him on the sideline, representing our great university. I'm looking forward to watching a resilient Indiana team that is difficult to play against. A team that plays HARD and plays SMART on every possession. That's the Indiana Basketball that I know and love. Woody's gonna bring it back to us"

Victor Oladipo

"Coach Woodson was a great coach in the league and will be great for IU. Great to see us Hoosiers sticking together."

AJ Guyton

"I don't know Mike Woodson extremely well. I ran into him in the NBA when I played. I had great conversations with him. The guys who played for him that I know well, guys like Jamal Crawford and Tyson Chandler, they love his basketball mind.

"They love him as a player's coach. They love how he can keep the balance between player and coach. All those things are exciting to see. All those are things Indiana needs."

Cody Zeller

"I know the guys who have played for him who I have talked to have nothing but great things to say about Coach Woodson. I know his NBA stories and experience will definitely help him in recruiting. High school kids just want to know how they can get to the league the quickest."

"Mike Woodson is a perfect fit to coach the Hoosiers! He's had success as a player and as a coach at the highest level in the NBA. His former players point to his knowledge of the game, passion for competing, and ability to connect with guys off the court. Most importantly, he understands the history and tradition of Indiana Basketball and he wants to help the program return to national prominence. I can't wait to cheer him on!"

Quinn Bucker

"The man can coach. He's not soft-spoken then. He's very animated. He's engaged in the game and with his players. And the official occasionally gets in the way. So he deals with that, as well."

"Mike took a team in Atlanta, a young team, to the playoffs, when nobody else thought they could get in the playoffs. He came from the Pistons, where he had a bunch of veterans. Nobody thought that (Hawks) team could get there. They were so young. He was also the last guy to take the New York Knicks to the playoffs. He can coach."

"It's good to see one of our own come on and have a chance to do something that's for the greater good. I honestly believe, the fact he's here, it's for the greater good. Having success, it means a great deal to a great many people. What I have always found to be the issue with Mike: He was not nearly as good a basketball player as he is a human being," Buckner said. "He may be the best human being I know."

Randy Wittman

"With him playing in the NBA, and all of his coaching being in the NBA, this was the one job he would come to the college level to do because it is Indiana. I don't know if he would have searched out of any other college job. I think this holds a special place in his heart."

"I'm going to do whatever I can to help this man. He means that much to me as a person and as a friend and now as a head coach of Indiana. I want to see us get back to where we should be and where we can be. He's definitely a guy who can help us do that."

Landon Turner

"The last few years it's been up and down, and I've been missing the winning ways and seeing the players play like IU champions are supposed to play I haven't seen that IU championship spirit like we used to have, but I think Mike Woodson is definitely going to bring that tradition, those winning ways back to Indiana University basketball.

DON SCHLUNDT - 1953, 1954, 1955

The day Don Schlundt arrived in Indiana, he changed Hoosier Basketball forever. IU's first three-time All-American virtually rewrote the basketball record books. Building on an impressive hook shot, Schlundt went on to win three-straight Big Ten scoring titles. Among the records he held were 1,451 Big Ten points, most points in a game with 47, most career points with 2,192, highest season average at 27.1, most free throws in a game with 25, single-season field goal percentage at 50.4, career scoring average at 23.3 and most consecutive free throws in a game with 14. It took 32 years before Steve Alford would break Schlundt's point record. Schlundt helped lead the Hoosiers to a Big Ten title, an NCAA Championship, a No. 1 ranking in 1953 and a second conference title in 1954.

Archie Dees was the perfect successor to Indiana great Don Schlundt. After averaging 17.4 points in his first year, Dees went on to lead the Big Ten in scoring two years in a row. He guided the Hoosiers to two conference championships, a share of the title in 1957 and sole possession of the crown in 1958. Dees averaged 25.5 points in his senior season, making it the fifth time in six years that an IU player won the Big Ten scoring title. Dees became the first two-time Big Ten Most Valuable Player.

JIMMY RAYL - 1962, 1963

Jimmy Rayl had magical seasons for the Hoosiers as a junior and senior. After scoring 34 and 41 points in games early in his second season, Rayl exploded in a game against Minnesota. Scoring 25 points in the first half, Rayl recorded 48 points after leading a comeback from 11 points down with 10 minutes left to force overtime. His 20-foot shot with two seconds left in overtime gave IU the victory and lifted him to a Big Ten-record 56 points. He accomplished the feat once more, this time in regulation, during an IU rout of Michigan State. Rayl put up 48 shots, hit 23 field goals, and scored 56 points. All marks are still IU records. Throughout his junior and senior years, Rayl had a 43-game string of double-digit performances. Rayl was a two-time All-Big Ten team member.

TOM VAN ARSDALE - 1965

The only player who could have challenged Dick Van Arsdale as Indiana's top player through 1962-65 was his brother and identical twin Tom Van Arsdale. The two had almost identical stats throughout their three years and put in numerous identical performances. Tom finished his career with 1,252 points, just 12 more than his brother. Tom grabbed 723 career boards and led Indiana in scoring and rebounding during his sophomore and senior seasons. Both brothers had career scoring highs in the same game with Tom netting 34 points against Notre Dame as a junior. He received co-MVP with his brother in their final two seasons and was a member of the gold medal World University Games team. As was Dick, Tom was also an Academic All-American and played 12 seasons in the NBA, retiring with his brother from the Phoenix Suns after the 1976-77 season.

GEORGE MCGINNIS - 1971

In only one season with the Hoosiers, George McGinnis did what most college basketball players only dream about. Taking Indiana to a 17-7 record, the sophomore forward led the Big Ten in both scoring (29.9) and rebounding (14.9). He is one of just five players to do that in more than 40 years of conference records. His scoring average was also an IU record. McGinnis scored 20 or more points in 21 of his 24 college games, including an Indiana record 14 times in a row. He scored over 30 points on 12 different occasions, a Hoosier single-season record. The 1971 All-American went on to become a three-time NBA All-Star.

STEVE DOWNING - 1973

Steve Downing's totals in his first big college game were 28 points, 17 rebounds, and 10 blocked shots, Indiana's only recorded triple-double. His career continued as it started with Downing becoming the first All-American under Coach Bob Knight. Overcoming a knee injury, Downing led the Hoosiers to a Big Ten title in his final season, averaging 21.8 points in non-conference play and 14.7 during the Big Ten season. He averaged 24 points per game in the Hoosiers' last eight conference games. The conference champions were led by Downing in the quest for the NCAA title but fell short, losing 70-59 to UCLA in the Final Four. Downing was named All-Final Four, Big Ten MVP and chosen as the Boston Celtics' No. 1 draft pick. He won an NBA Championship with the Celtics in 1974.

STEVE GREEN - 1974, 1975

Steve Green was a member of one of the greatest combination of players Hoosier fans have ever seen. He had a breakout season as a junior and was considered one of the best players in the Big Ten. IU's Most Valuable Player and an All-Big Ten selection, Green was Indiana's leading scorer with 16.7 points per game. He hit in double figures in 24 games. His senior season, Green helped lead a Hoosier team through an 18-game Big Ten schedule undefeated. The wins came by a record average winning margin of 22.8 points per game. Green went on to sign with Utah and then joined the Indiana Pacers for their first three seasons.

QUINN BUCKNER - 1975, 1976

One would think a perfect 18-0 conference record is something that only comes along once in a lifetime. Quinn Buckner and members of the Hoosier Basketball team from 1974-76 proved that history can repeat itself. Buckner's four-year career at Indiana featured four consecutive Big Ten Championships, two undefeated conference seasons, one unbeaten regular season and an NCAA title. IU's captain as a junior and senior, Buckner was considered one of the greatest leaders the Hoosier backcourt has ever seen. Upon finishing his college career, Buckner helped lead the 1976 U.S. Olympic team to an 8-0 record and a gold medal. He went on to play 10 NBA seasons and in 1984 with the Boston Celtics, joined Jerry Lucas as the only players ever to be on championship teams in high school, college, the Olympics and the NBA. Only Magic Johnson has since completed that feat

SCOTT MAY - 1975, 1976

Scott May was another member of the Indiana dream team of 1976. An undefeated season, four Big Ten Championship rings and an NCAA title are just a few of the accomplishments under May's name. As a junior, the All-American helped lead Indiana to a perfect 18-0 conference record, only to break his arm in the final game of the regular season. Without May, the Hoosiers' tournament title dreams ended with a 92-90 Mideast Regional championship loss to Kentucky. May returned for his final season in perfect condition and proved it by helping IU to its one and only unbeaten season. The 1976 Player of the Year was the Hoosiers' leading scorer on Bob Knight's first national championship team. May also contributed to the gold medal U.S. Olympic team following his senior season. He averaged 14.2 points for the Chicago Bulls, making the NBA All-Rookie team. His NBA career spanned seven seasons

KENT BENSON - 1975, 1976, 1977

Nicknamed Big Red for his recognizable red hair, Kent Benson was part of one of the most amazing periods of Indiana Basketball. After an average 1973-74 season, the Hoosiers took the world by storm in 1974-75, posting a perfect 29-0 regular season record. After teammate Scott May broke his arm, Benson did his part against Kentucky to try to keep the NCAA Tournament dream alive. Benson netted 33 points and grabbed 23 boards but IU fell 92-90 and Benson would have to look forward to his junior season. Benson was named All-Big Ten as a sophomore and his list of honors is endless. During the 1976 championship run, Benson racked up 25 points in the final game at the Final Four and received the Most Outstanding Player Award. The dream would come true as Indiana dominated Michigan for the tournament crown. After a final year at IU, Benson was the first player taken in the NBA draft. He played eight NBA seasons for Milwaukee. Detroit, Utah and Cleveland.

MIKE WOODSON - 1979, 1980

Mike Woodson became Indiana's 11th All-American in five seasons. He averaged 21.0 points during his junior season and helped lead Indiana to an NIT Championship. Woodson captained the USA's Pan American Games team to a gold medal during the summer prior to his senior year and was all set to have a perfect season with the Hoosiers. After five games and a No.1 ranking, Woodson suffered a herniated disc in his back and had to undergo surgery. Upon losing Woodson, the Hoosiers went 7-5 in the Big Ten until he returned to spark Indiana back into action. IU finished the conference season with six straight victories and won the Big Ten title. Woodson was the MVP after playing in only six league games that season. Following his senior year, Woodson went on to an 11-year, 10,981-point NBA career with New York, New Jersey, Kansas City, Sacramento, the Los Angeles Clippers and Houston.

ISIAH THOMAS - 1981

The only thing disappointing about Isiah Thomas' IU career is the fact that he only played two years in a Hoosier uniform before turning pro. Before even playing a game at Indiana, Thomas played on Bob Knight's gold-medal Pan-American Games team in San Juan. Thomas helped lead the U.S. team to a 113-94 victory over Puerto Rico in the championship battle. At IU, Thomas started every game he played. He was a member and leader of two Indiana teams that won Big Ten Championships. During his second and final season at IU, Thomas led the Hoosiers in scoring and set a single-season school record for assists with 197. In the 1981 championship game, Thomas led all scorers with 23 points and was honored as the Outstanding Player. Several weeks later, he announced he was headed for the NBA. A No. 2 draft pick, Thomas was an instant success in the NBA. He received Rookie of the Year honors and was a starting All-Star from his first year on. He led the Detroit Pistons to two NBA Championships and his No. 11 was retired by the Pistons.

LANDON TURNER - 1982

The courage and strength shown by Landon Turner can be matched by few athletes around the country. Turner had an up and down basketball career during his first two years at Indiana. During his junior season in 1981, Knight gave Turner one last chance to prove he could contribute. Turner responded with a 4-of-5 performance against Northwestern, which boosted an already powerful line-up. Turner went on to reach double figures in nine of his last 11 games. The Hoosiers won their last five regular season games and earned their second straight Big Ten crown. Turner was on the rise heading into his senior season when disaster struck. On his way to Kings Island in Cincinnati, Ohio, Turner lost control of his vehicle and crashed in an accident that left him paralyzed from the chest down. Turner eventually graduated from Indiana in 1984 and went on to play wheelchair basketball. He was named an honorary All-American by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association and received the Most Courageous Athlete award in 1989.

TED KITCHEL - 1982, 1983

By his sophomore year, Ted Kitchel already had two Big Ten titles and had an NCAA Championship ring on his finger. He also set a conference record that still stands today when he hit all 18 of his free throw attempts in an Indiana victory over Illinois. Kitchel was a starter on an all-senior lineup that began the 1982-83 season 10-0 and gained a No. 1 ranking. On a weekend trip to Michigan late in the league season, Kitchel sank a three-pointer and fell to the floor. An early back problem had returned and his season was over. Despite the injury, Kitchel averaged 17.3 points and was one of the league's top scorers.

RANDY WITTMAN - 1983

Randy Wittman and Ted Kitchel experienced similar careers at Indiana. Five-year roommates, injury caused redshirt seasons for both individuals. Wittman gathered up his conference championships and NCAA title by his sophomore season. He and Kitchel were major contributors throughout their careers. After Kitchel suffered an injury late in the Big Ten 1982-83 season, Wittman and the Hoosiers were in a tie for the conference lead with three games remaining. Wittman took Indiana under his wing, helping the Hoosiers rout Purdue, Illinois and Ohio State for yet another Big Ten Championship. Wittman shot .543 on the season and averaged a team-leading 18.9 points. He was IU's third Big Ten MVP in four years. In his IU career, Wittman played an IU-recorded 4,699 minutes, including the full 40 minutes 45 times. He went on to a productive nine-year NBA career and is currently an assistant coach with the Washington Wizards.

STEVE ALFORD - 1986, 1987

Steve Alford may have been born dribbling a basketball. Alford was not only a talented athlete, but he had the work ethic and determination to bring out the most of his abilities. An Indiana Mr. Basketball as a high school senior, Alford averaged 37 points a game and never scored less than 20 points in a game his final two seasons. As a freshman at Indiana, Alford led the nation in free throw shooting with a 91.3 percentage and led the Hoosiers with 15.5 points a game. After just missing a Final Four appearance that year, Alford and the Hoosiers had a slow season his sophomore year. He still managed to make history, draining 58 of 62 free throws during the Big Ten season. He also averaged a team-high 18.1 points. Alford continued to improve as a junior as he averaged 22.5 points and brought his team to a 21-8 record. The team was shocked in an NCAA Tournament opening round loss but would return for Alford's senior season with a vigor never seen before. In the first season of college basketball's three-point shot, Alford hit seven treys on two different occassions. He set an NCAA record with his seven baskets from beyond the arc in the championship game, a victory over Syracuse that would secure a fifth national title for the Hoosiers. Alford was the Big Ten MVP in 1987 and went on to a brief NBA career.

JAY EDWARDS - 1989

Jay Edwards made his debut appearance in a Hoosier jersey under the fan pressure to see a repeat NCAA Championship performance in 1988. Although Indiana did not obtain back-to-back titles, Edwards gave the Hoosier faithful a sight to see. The Big Ten Freshman of the Year had an NCAA freshman record .536 three-point percentage. He broke Alford's conference record of seven threes in a game. As a sophomore, Edwards led Indiana to a Big Ten title with last second shots to knock off Purdue and Michigan. With an average of 20 points a game and All-America achievement, Edwards gave up his final two years of eligibility to enter the draft and was a second-round pick of the Los Angeles Clippers.

CALBERT CHEANEY - 1991, 1992, 1993

Calbert Cheaney was Bob Knight's first-ever left-handed player and a good choice he was. Cheaney is the only Indiana freshman to start the season opener and score 20 points. Cheaney kept the Hoosiers a national power during all four of his years at Indiana. As a freshman he led the team in scoring with a 17.1 average. Over his final three seasons, Indiana spent all but two of 53 poll weeks in the Top 10 and 38 in the top five. The Hoosiers were 87-16 during those years. In his second season, Cheaney set a school-record with a .596 shooting percentage and an average of 21.6 points per game. Cheaney took on captainship of the team following that year. Indiana was unable to come up with a championship but outscored opponents by 17.6 points to lead the nation. Cheaney led the team to a Final Four appearance as a junior. On his way, he gained control of the all-time Big Ten men's scoring record with his career total of 2,613 points, a record that still stands. Cheaney was named the National Player of the Year (Wooden Award), a unanimous All-American, Big Ten MVP and was taken No. 6 in the NBA draft by Washington.

DAMON BAILEY - 1994

Year

Damon Bailey could have never donned the Hoosier warmups and still been considered an Indiana legend. Bailey was featured in Sports Illustrated before ever playing a high school game. He led teams to three national AAU championships and Bedford North Lawrence High School to the state's Final Four three out of four years. As a senior, a national record crowd of 41,046 watched Bailey and his teammates top Concord for the state championship. He was named USA Today's High School Player of the Decade. At Indiana, Bailey played in 108 victories including an IU-record 11 NCAA tournament victories. Bailey's career as a Hoosier ended in the third round of NCAA Tournament play his senior year. He averaged 19.6 points per game that season and finished No. 5 on IU's career points list with 1.741. He was All-Big Ten and a third team All-American, selection FT-A Pct. He was named second-team All-America by CMSSports.com, the Sporting News, Sports Illustrated, the USBWA and the NABC. He finished 16th in career scoring (1,447) and ninth in IU history in rebounds (748). He was the first player since Alan Henderson in 1994 to average a double-double for a season. His best game of the year was a 21-point, 22-rebound effort at Michigan. He was named Big Ten Player of the Year and was a candidate for the Wooden Award and Naismith Award. He could have applied for a medical hardship to regain a year of eligibility, but elected to enter the NBA Draft where he was drafted in the first round by the Detroit Pistons (29th overall) and later traded to the Seattle Supersonics who then became the Oklahoma City Thunder.

GOING GLOBAL

Indiana University's Basketball program has been well represented in the U.S. National team's history and in international competition.

Among the most memorable IU connections with international play was the Games of the XXIII Olympiad in Los Angeles during the summer of 1984. Three Hoosiers participated in the games, IU coach Bob Knight as the U.S. head coach, Steve Alford as one of the 12 U.S. players and Uwe Blab on the West German squad.

A large banner of the Olympic rings and U.S.A. stitched into the rings hangs in Assembly Hall as a remembrance of the role Hoosier fans, players and coaches had in the U.S.A. gold medal effort.

Indiana hosted the team selection in April 1984 when 74 candidates worked out daily in the IU Fieldhouse. Over 34,000 turned out over two nights to watch the final trials games. A dinner with over 3,000 attending in the RCA Dome at Indianapolis saluted the U.S. team and helped raise over $131,000 for the U.S. Olympic Committee. More Olympic contributions came when 17,100 watched a June game in Assembly Hall between the U.S. team and a group of former Indiana players.

A highlight of the summer came in July when the RCA Dome had quite a debut for its first sporting event. Exceeding all expectations, 67,596 fans turned out for two exhibition games featuring the U.S. men's and women's Olympic Basketball teams.

The U.S. squad turned aside eight opponents en route to the gold medal with some of the decisions very one-sided thanks to contributions from all 12 U.S. players. Alford and Blab's respective teams met during pool play, and the U.S. won, 78-67. It was the closest margin of victory for the U.S. team.

From the Indiana Daily Student: "...Everybody unites in agreeing that the work of the official who reigned with a tyrannical hand was the vilest and most unfair ever perpetrated. On three different occasions fouls were called on Woody just as he had thrown the ball in the basket for a field goal, and no possible motive for the umpires verdicts could be found except his desire to give the visitors the short end of it. Despite the handicap, the Crimson athletes showed wonderful tenacity and were in the van at many stages."

OLD ASSEMBLY HALL

Indiana University Basketball has in its 100-year existence come full circle. Today, the 17,000 -plus capacity Assembly Hall is a mecca for sporting arenas, just as old Assembly Hall was in its day.

The original Assembly Hall was not a sporting arena, it was a small one-story structure with a wooden frame. The building, located near the Indiana Memorial Union, was built in 1895 and had a price tag of $12,000. When full the building could seat 600 people for a basketball game. It also was the practice site for the team and the gymnasium for physical education classes.

IU's first-ever game was on February 8, 1901 against Butler. The game was described by the Indianapolis News as a "fast" and "hard-fought" game which had Butler on top 20-17. The first game at Assembly Hall came 20 days later against Butler. In another tight game, Butler pulled it out 24-20 and left IU 0-2.

Opponents were rare and basketball was still enduring growing pains, but the 1901 total of two games doubled in 1902 and five games were played in 1903. It was a time when basketball was just taking hold, but when it did, the growth was accompanied by the need for a new building.

The final game at the original Assembly Hall was against Rose Poly on January 5, 1917 and it was the fifth-straight victory for IU and it came in dominating fashion, 35-9.

The building attracted former Presidents William Howard Taft and Teddy Roosevelt and also presidential candidate William Jennings Bryan.

The doors to Assembly Hall, which boasted an overall record of 61-43, officially closed in 1938 when it was demolished, but the tradition carried on and only grew stronger.

MEN'S GYMNASIUM

MEN'S GYMNASIUM

What is now an upstairs recreational gymnasium in the School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation building is the Men's Gymnasium. This facility housed the Indiana Hoosiers from 1916-1928 and was brought into existence amid controversy.

With the original Assembly Hall falling into disrepair, students and faculty allike marched for a new gymnasium for the athletes. Alumni and University personnel also lobbied for its abandonment by the athletic program. The people's wishes were granted in 1914 and with a capacity of 2,000 and a cost of $200,000, the Men's Gymnasium's era began in 1916.

The first game at the gymnasium was on Jan. 19, 1917 against Iowa. The Hoosiers pulled out one of the lowest scoring games in history, 12-7.

The building was the home court of consistent teams coached by the likes of Dana M. Evans and Everett Dean. Dean led his squad to the first two Big Ten Championships in the history of IU Basketball as the head coach. He led the final team to play in the building to the program's first unbeaten home season at Men's Gymnasium (11-0).

As a player, Dean called the Men's Gymnasium home and was named as Indiana University's first All-American in 1921 while playing in that facility.

The team's consistent success led to the growth of the fan base supporting the squad. The capacity of 2,000 was no longer sufficient, so the program had to be moved into another facility.

The time had come because the growth was so substantial.

OLD FIELDHOUSE

Indiana's third home, after outgrowing the Men's Gymnasium, was the Old IU Fieldhouse and it was built on East 7th Street with a price tag of $350,000. The dedication game was on December 13, 1928 when IU defeated Eastern Champion Pennsylvania, 34-26. The facility had a portable hardwood floor and a lighting system consisting of 47 electric lamps suspended from the ceiling. Seven floodlights, three above the floor and two pointing directly at the hoops, made it easier for the players to see during the game. It was not one of the luxurious buildings of today, but head coach Everett Dean and the Hoosiers made due with what they were given.

The Old Fieldhouse was where Indiana Head Coach Everett Dean led the Hoosiers into what is now a well-documented tradition. Dean coached the 1936 team to an undefeated home record (9-0) and a share of the Big Ten Conference crown.

The facility saw six perfect seasons including a 24-game unbeaten home winning streak from 1938-1941. It was the home to the "Hurryin" Hoosiers" under head coach Branch McCracken. It was also the home to McCracken as a player where in 1930, he was named an All-American.

The fieldhouse was the home court for the 1940 NCAA National Champions and it was the place where IU attained its first 20-win season going 20-3 including a 9-0 mark at home. It was also the home to the 1953 NCAA National Champion "Hurryin and unprecedented 11-0 in the Fieldhouse.

Indiana squads amassed an amazing 234-74 overall record in the Old Fieldhouse era. Besides the two national titles, it was the home of five Big Ten Conference Championships, 20 All-Americans, 17 All-Big Ten First Team selections and three Big Ten Most Valuable Players. Today the Fieldhouse is named the Ora Wildemuth Intramural Center and it houses one of the most well-known facilities in the country. The HPER building's famed basketball courts are now residing where the tradition of Indiana University Basketball began.

NEW FIELDHOUSE

From 1960-71, Indiana played in what is known as today as Gladstein Fieldhouse, adjacent to Assembly Hall. Gladstein Fieldhouse was the fourth home of the Hoosiers

Although it was only expected to last a few seasons, it lasted 11 years. Over that time, Indiana had only two losing seasons and consistency was the name of the game for the Hoosiers.

The building still exists and it plays host to the Indiana University Indoor Track and Field squad and is utilized during graduation ceremonies. The facility has played host to four Men's Big Ten Indoor Track and Field Championships and three Women's Indoor Big Ten Championships. It is a building that is well-utilized throughout the athletic season.

The Hoosiers, under Branch McCracken for the first five years, went a combined 44-15 in those seasons. In the opening game at the Fieldhouse, Indiana defeated Butler 80-53 in front of 9,236 screaming Hoosier fans.

Players like Walt Bellamy, Tom and Dick Van Arsdale and Jimmy Rayl competed at the Fieldhouse. It was the home arena for five All-Americans, six All-Big Ten First Team selections, three Academic All-Americans and three Academic All-Big Ten selections.

The tradition of Indiana University Basketball was not altered in any way by the temporary move to the Fieldhouse, but the tradition began to escalate when the Hoosiers moved into Assembly Hall.

SIMON SKJODT ASSEMBLY HALL

The 2022-23 season marked the 51st anniversary for the building that is the definition of tradition -- Assembly Hall. The Indiana Hoosiers have won over 83 percent of the games played at Branch McCracken Court. In 2016-17, the facility was renamed to Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall following a $40 million gift from Cindy Simon Skjodt for renovations to the facility.

The last unbeaten team in NCAA basketball, three NCAA Championships and 11 Big Ten Conference championship-winning teams have graced Branch McCracken Memorial Court. It has been the home to seven perfect seasons including a 56-game winning streak from 1991-1995 and it is the home of the shot that gave Calbert Cheaney the title of Big Ten career scoring leader.

Assembly Hall has played host to the pre- and postseason National Invitational Tournament on six occasions and the 1981 NCAA Midwest Regional Championship won by the Isiah Thomas-led Indiana Hoosiers. The building was also the home area of the 1984 Olympic gold medal-winning basketball team coached by Bob Knight.

The cavernous structure was completed in 1971 and is an impressive sight. It has 15,200 fully-cushioned, theatre-style seats located on concourse and upper balcony levels and another 2,057 can be seated in the bleachers located on all four sides at court level. The north and south loge areas give disabled fans an opportunity to have pristine vantage point for Hoosier games.

The building has a suspension roof made up of 4,500 concrete slabs each six feet long, three inches thick and 30 inches wide. Each slab weighs 500 pounds giving the roof a total weight of 1,350 tons or 2,700,000 pounds. The building holds more than 30,000 yards of concrete, six million pounds of reinforcing steel and almost 1.5 million pounds of structural steel.

Assembly Hall has played host to memorable moments such as Kirk Haston's gamewinning three-point shot to knock off No. 1 Michigan State, 59-58, which marked the first time in Assembly Hall history that the Hoosiers upset a No. 1 team at the Hall.

Another memorable victory over Michigan State was the backdrop for the Hoosiers' 400th victory in the facility. IU defeated the Spartans, 78-74, in overtime on Feb. 27 2005

During the 2005 summer months, a $1.99-million scoreboard-video board was installed in Assembly Hall. The state-of-the art scoreboard-video board includes four video screens, four video/scoring/statistics screens, one center-hung ProAd ring, five ProTable scorer's table units, four auxiliary portal scoreboards, as well as three-sided shot clocks and a new game timing system.

During the summers of 2010 and 2011, a new roof was installed on the structure. The tradition can be felt the instant you walk into Assembly Hall and if you have been there before you can hear Indiana, Our Indiana and Go IUI Fight! Fight! resonate off the walls and throughout the building long after you leave.

SIMON SKJODT ASSEMBLY HALL

50 YEARS OF SIMON SKJODT ASSEMBLY HALL

From the 1971-72 Men's Basketball Media Guide:

Fabulous Assembly Hall, Indiana University's fifth basketball home in the past 70 years, has become the newest show piece in the I.U. Athletic complex.

Namewise, it will bring Indiana full-circle, since tiny Assembly Hall, a one-story frame building in the center of campus built in the late 1840's, was the original home of Hoosier teams – and, incidentally, the original site of the Indiana high school state tournament. From there basketball moved to the Men's Gymnasium in 1916, to the old I.U. Fieldhouse in 1927 and in 1960, to the new I.U. Fieldhouse.

The finished structure marks the culmination of nearly four years of construction work and over two decades of planning and research. Assembly Hall will be the only enclosed structure on the Bloomington campus that can come to handling the approximately 32,000 students who attend classes here.

The main arena is what Assembly Hall is all about and it will provide the ultimate in playing and spectator facilities. There are over 15,200 theatre-back cushioned chairs located on concourse and upper balcony levels on two sides. By using the pull-out bleacher seats on the ends, total basketball capacity will reach 16,666. An overhead grid of lighting will be supplemented by side-lighting for ideal television coverage.

A unique feature of the building is a concrete roof suspended by cables. It is composed of 4,500 concrete slabs measuring three by six feet. Each weighs 600 pounds, making the total weight of the roof alone a staggering 2,700,000 pounds. If you could put the whole building on scales, it would weigh in the neighborhood of 127 million pounds. It sets on limestone bedrock and required excavation of 60,500 cubic yards of earth and 12,000 yards of rock. Assembly Hall is an engineering and architectural marvel of which Hoosiers can well be proud. It completes one of the most ambitious construction programs ever under-taken by a major university athletic department.

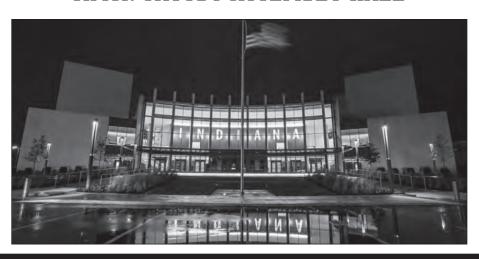

The new plant is a half-mile north of the old location on the main campus. Assembly Hall, I.U. Fieldhouse, Memorial Stadium and 13,300 parking spaces are on a 160-acre tract; adjacent or nearby are Sembower Field, the varsity baseball park; four football practice fields; an 18-hole championship golf course, a par-3 layout and a driving range; an Olympic-size swimming pool; and a 10-lane all-weather Grasstex running track with field event facilities.

Basketball is not the only attraction destined for the building. The arena is adaptable to host anything from a "coat-and-tie" political convention to a formal theatrical production. The basketball court, which has been renamed the "McCracken Memorial Court" in honor of the deceased Hoosier basketball coach who won two NCAA titles during his 24 years of coaching, can be removed and a full 108 x 54-foot portable stage installed all in one day.

SIMON SKJODT ASSEMBLY HALL

On October 14, 2016, Indiana University President Michael A. McRobbie presided over the dedication of Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall. The historic and venerable arena was renamed in honor of IU alumna Cindy Simon Skjodt, whose $40 million gift represents the largest gift in IU Athletics history. The renovation preserved the greatest home court advantage in college basketball while adding fan amenities and modern technology to the iconic venue.

COOK HALL

Thanks to a generous donation of $15 million to the "For The Glory of Old IU" campaign by the Cook Group, Indiana Basketball is able to call Cook Hall home for day-to-day operations. The late Bill Cook and his wife, Gayle, have been instrumental in a number of different projects at Indiana University and Cook Hall is no exception.

UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATION

PAMELA WHITTEN - Indiana University's 19th President

Pamela Whitten became the 19th president of Indiana University on July 1, 2021.

A visionary scholar and accomplished educator and researcher, Whitten has held a variety of leadership roles, beginning at Michigan State University where she served as a dean for five years, and most recently as president of Kennesaw State University.

As IU's first female president, Whitten assumes the helm at one of the nation's leading research universities at a time of record-level research funding and philanthropic support.

"Pamela has distinguished herself as a passionate and accessible leader," IU board of trustee chair Michael Mirro said. "Her student-centered approach and proven ability to harness diverse talent and secure vital resources will help IU continue on its strong trajectory."

Whitten holds a Ph.D. in communication studies from the University of Kansas, a Master of Arts in communication from the University of Kentucky and a Bachelor of Science in management from Tulane University. She is an internationally recognized expert in the field of telemedicine. As part of her work in higher education, she additionally held leadership roles at the University of Georgia and the University of Kansas Medical Center.

"Indiana University is one of our nation's finest public research universities, with a rich history, wonderful traditions and a worldwide reputation for excellence," Whitten said. "This is an especially exciting time as IU builds upon its 200 years of success, strengthening its mission of delivering outstanding education and innovative research. I'm deeply honored to be selected to lead this great university, and I look forward to working with the exceptional faculty, staff, students, alumni and friends of IU to seize the opportunities and challenges ahead, creating a better future for all of those we serve."

Whitten was appointed by the board of trustees following an extensive search. Faculty, staff and students across the university provided early input regarding the characteristics and experiences most desired in IU's next leader.

"Pamela emerged as a clear choice among a strong group of candidates," said Melanie Walker, trustee and search committee chair. "She is an engaging and collaborative leader who will bring focused passion to the presidential role."

Rick Van Kooten, executive dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at IU Bloomington, advised on the search and was impressed with Whitten's commitment to faculty engagement.

"Beyond academic accomplishments alone, she has a strong history of creative initiatives and working with faculty to advance their interests, including both research and teaching," he said.

SCOTT DOLSON - Vice President and Director of Intercollegiate Athletics

IU alumnus Scott Dolson is in his second year as IU's Vice President and Director of Intercollegiate Athletics. The native of Michigan City, Ind., began his role at the helm of IU Athletics July 1, 2020, after spending the previous 11 years as the department's Deputy Director of Athletics and chief operating officer.

In his first year, Dolson helped IU Athletics enjoy one of its most successful seasons both on and off the field. This happened while IU Athletics was also navigating one of the most challenging times in the department's history due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Academically, IUs student-athletes set records across the board in 2020-21. A school-record 303 students arend Academically. All-Big Ten honors, as IU set records during the fall (114), winter (61) and spring (156) sports seasons. A school-record 105 were also named Big Ten Distinguished Scholars (3.7 GPA and above), and IU student-athletes earned a cumulative 3.27 GPA in 2020-21. IU also earned a 91 percent Graduation Success Rate score from the NCAA, marking the eighth straight year IU Athletics has either established a new record or equaled its previous record score.

Athletically, IU excelled on the Big Ten, NCAA and international levels. Seven Hoosier programs finished first or second in the Big Ten, a total that has been eclipsed only once in the last 30 years. Men's Soccer followed up its third straight Big Ten regular and postsoan championship double with a run to the NCAA Championship match, while Men's Swimming and Diving placed sixth at NCAAs for its eighth top-10 finish at nationals in the last nine vages.

Football and Women's Basketball, meanwhile, enjoyed historically great seasons. National and Big Ten Football Coach of the Year Tom Allen's team spent six weeks ranked in the top 10, marking the first time in 51 years the program has reached that level. The Hoosiers defeated Michigan, Michigan State, Penn State and Wisconsin on their way to a 6-2 season and a second-straight, Haunary how appearance. Women's Basketball, meanwhile, seasoned its first-ever appearance in the NCAA Tournament's Elite Eight, cracked the top-10 for the first-time ever, and established a program record with 16 Big Ten wins. At season's end, Dolson rewarded Allen as well as IU Women's Basketball Coach Teri Moren with new contracts, ensuring both will remain in Bloomington to continue to lead their respective programs for the froseeable future.

IU Athletics also made its presence felt on an international level. Fifteen current or former IU student-athletes earmed spots in the Summer Olympics in Tokyo, including current IU student-athletes Michael Bringarg (swimming), Tomer Frankel (swimming), Andrew Capobianco (diving) and Gabi Rennie (women's soccer). The contingent of current and former IU student-athletes will represent a total of six countries. In addition, IU diving coach Drew Johansen served as the head diving coach for Team USA for the third straight time, while swimming coach Ray Looze was an assistant coach for the second straight Olympiad.

While IU's student-athletes and teams excelled on the highest levels, the IU Athletics Department played a pivotal role during the 2021 NCAA Men's Basketball Championship, which was played in its entirely in the state of Indiana. Indiana Inversity's Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall hosted six games during the tournament's opening weekend, marking the first time in 40 years at Indiana University hosted NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament oames.

During Dolson's first year, IU Athletics has also been a leader in the rapidly-developing Name, Image and Likeness areau. Less then two months after assuming his new role, Dolson announced the creation of the IU Athletics Name, Image and Likeness Task Force to guide the department's NIL efforts. IU has established partnerships with industry leaders Opendorse and Altius Sports Partners, as well as the IU Kelley School of Business and The Media School, to support the department's ongoing and comprehensive efforts to educate and support its student-athletes. When the new NIL rules went into effect July 1, 2021, more than 95 percent of IU S student-athletes had leady been onboarded onto the Opendorse platform, showing IU Athletics' commitment to supporting its student-athletes apportunity to take advantage of the new intercollegiate athletics landscape. IU Athletics was also among the first department's to formally create and announce a department-wide Name, Image and Likeness Policy to guide its NIL efforts.

The last year has also featured extensive efforts and initiatives to support the well-being of all members of the Indiana University Athletics family. In the fall of 2020, IU Athletics created the IU Athletics Mental Health Task Force as well as the Anti-Hate and Anti-Racism Coalition. Under the Mental Health Task Force's leadership, IU has introduced extensive programming through the Excellence Academy to increase awareness, maintain a healthy culture, provide resources, and develop key programming to support student-athletes, coaches and staff. The Anti-Hate and Anti-Racism Coalition, meanwhile, has been active in developing opportunities for student-athletes and staff to engage in diversity and inclusivity programming. In addition to mandatory annual in-person inclusivity training for all staff and students, programming opportunities have included a staff-wide conversation with former Indianapolis Colts head coach Tony Dungy as part of ID Athletics' Martin Luther King Jr. Day events; an educational social media campaign highlighting historical facts on former African-American student-athletes at Indiana University, and the creation of new annual award to honor one female and one male student-athlete for their efforts in the areas of diversity and inclusion

Dolson's first year also included the creation of the Women's Excellence Initiative, designed to generate financial and human resources to enhance IUS female student-athlete experience and propel the women's athletics programs. To help direct these efforts, the IU Athletics Women's Excellence Committee was created under the Varsity Club National Board of Directors, a group that includes, among others, former Indiana University First Lady Laurie Burns McRobbie, IU Board of Trustees member Donna Spears, Indianapolis Colts' Vice Chair and Owner Kalen Jackson, and co-founder and Board Chair of the Samerian Foundation Cindy Simon Skjodt. Before the initiative was even publicly announced, the original 12-18 month fundraising goal of $1 million was eclipsed.

These successes were accomplished against the backdrop of the COVID-19 pandemic. IJ Athletics was not only a leader in establishing safety protocols to protect the health of its student-athletes, staff, and spectators with its COVID practices and procedures, but it was also a key partner in the Indiana University and Bloomington communities' efforts to combat the virus. IJ Athletics has collaborated with campus partners to utilize IJ Athletics facilities to administer COVID tests and vaccines throughout the 2020-21 academic year. From Aug. 9-Nov. 19, 2020, 89,70 COVID tests were administered on IJ Athletics facilities, and to date more than 40,000 vaccine doses have been administered on IJ Athletics campus.

Dolson's first year also included significant efforts to minimize the financial ramifications caused by the pandemic. In addition to a previously-announced $11.1M budget cut for the department shortly after the onset of the pandemic, IU Athletics pursued additional costcutting measures that ultimately resulted in a total expense reduction of nearly $25M during the 2021 fiscal year.

Dolson was appointed to his role as the leader of IU Athletics by former IU President Michael A. McRobbie. In assuming the role, Dolson has remained committed to and anchored by the five priorities put in place by his predecessor, Fred Glass.

- 1. Playing by the rules;
- 2. Being well in mind, body and spirit;
- 3. Achieving academically;
- Excelling athletically; and
   Integrating with the University.

In his previous role as Deputy Director of Athletics under Glass, Dolson was instrumental in helping IU Athletics establish records for both athletic and academic success, including graduating students at unprecedented rates; make historic investments in facilities; deliver unprecedented fundraising dollars; and establish nationally recognized programs and policies focused on holistic student development and welfare.

Dolson helped oversee strategic planning of all facility projects and renovations, ensuring the successful completion of the university's Bicentennial Facilities Master Plan for IU Athletics, which includes over $150 million in facility construction and renovations. In recent years, these projects have included the North End Zone Student-Athlete Development Center, the Henke Hall of Champions, the D. Ames Shuel Academic Center, Bart Kaufman Field, the Andy Mohr Softball Field, the Cook Hall baskethall practice facility, the renovated Simon Skjott Assembly Hall, the enclosure of the South End Zone of Memorial Stadium, which is home to the Excellence Academy, and Wilkinson Hall, US new home for its volleyball and wrestling teams. These projects also include the new IU championship golf course, The Pfau Course at Indiana University, and the soon-to-be-completed renovations to Under Dolson's stewardship, the athletics department renegotiated a new, 10-year multimedia rights agreement with Learfield Sports, and it has dramatically increased student and qeneral attendance at both forotball and mer's baskettell games. Recent years have seen IU football achieve record attendance and increase public season ticket sales. In men's basketball, IU continues to sell more student season tickets than any other program in the country and regularly ranks among the nation's leaders in attendance.

In addition to his role as deputy director of intercollegiate athletics, Dolson maintained his leadership as the fourth director of the Varsity Club. As director, he managed the athletic department's overall fundraising program for scholarships, annual giving, endowments and athletic facilities

The Michigan City, Indiana, native graduated from IIJ with a bachelor's degree in management from the Paul H. O'Neill School of Public and Environmental Affairs. While doing his undergraduate work, Dolson was a student manager for the IIJ men's basketball team for four seasons, serving as the program's head manager in 1988. Following graduation in 1989, he worked for Tim Knight Enterprises before joining the Joining the Varsity Club staff in December 1989.

Dolson and his wife, Heidi, have five children: Luke, Sam and Zach Wisen, and Kristen and Nick Dolson

IU RADIO NETWORK

Indiana University's basketball program receives some of the most extensive media coverage in the country. On Dec. 31, 2018, Learfield Communications entered yet a new phase as it was announced that the proposed merger of Learfield and IMG College was completed. The new company – now operating as Learfield IMG College – reflects the strengths of both companies which respectively shared deep roots in the collegiate athletics landscape.

DON FISCHER

This marks the 50th year that Don Fischer has been the radio play-by-play "voice" of Indiana University football and men's basketball games. He shares the second-longest football radio tenure in the nation. The past 34 years, Fischer has worked as an independent contractor and is currently serving the Indiana University Radio Network owned by Learfield IMG College out of Plano. Texas.

In addition to broadcasting the games, Fischer hosts the weekly coaches radio talk shows for both the football and men's basketball programs. Fischer also offers stations a weekly talk show about IU football and basketball that airs in several markets around the state during the school year.

Fischer does freelance sportscasting, which included handling for 23 years the pre-season television play-by-play for the NFL's Indianapolis Colts (1995-2017).

During his 48 years with IU, Fischer has been named Indiana Sportscaster of the Year 32 times by two different organizations. The National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association has awarded him 27 times, while the Indiana Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association has named him its honoree four times.

He received the inaugural Woody Durham College Voice Award from the National Sports Media Association, the University of North Carolina and Learfield Sports in June of 2018.

In October of 2010, Fischer was one of eight inductees into the Indiana Broadcast Pioneers Richard M. Fairbanks Hall of Fame. The Indiana Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association (ISSA) inducted Fischer into the ISSA Hall of Fame in 2004.

He has won several awards for best play-by-play performance, and he has been honored by Indiana University with the J.W. Bill Orwig Medal, that goes to nonalumni for distinguished service to the University.

Fischer also has been named an Honorary "I" Man. In addition, the City of Indianapolis, and the State of Indiana have each honored Fischer with a special "Recognition Day" for his service and abilities as the play-by-play broadcaster for IU.

He has broadcast over 1,900 Indiana University games - a total that includes 10 bowl games, four NCAA basketball championship games and two N.I.T. championship games.

From 1973 through 1987, he worked for ABC Radio, Canada's CBC and several additional major market radio stations, including WIRE in Indianapolis, as their source for reports during the month of May coverage of the Indianapolis 500. During that period, Fischer also served WIRE and Network Indiana, a statewide news network, as their sports director.

A native of Rochelle, III., Fischer has been in the radio business for 54 years. His previous broadcast experience includes stops in Butte, Mont.; Ottawa, III.; Springfield, III.; and Terre Haute, Ind.

Fischer has four sons and 12 grandchildren. Don and his wife, Susy, reside in Greenwood, Ind.

DON FISCHER

Voice of the Hoosiers for Men's Basketball and Football, 1973-present

The "Voice of the Hoosiers", Don Fischer has been the play-by-play voice of Indiana Men's Basketball and Football since 1973. During that time, he's called more than 2,000 games, four NCAA Men's Basketball Championship games and 12 bowl contests, serving as the voice that IU fans trust for nearly 50 years. Longevity, though, isn't the only thing that Fischer has on an IU resume that started when he was just 26 years old. He's also one of the most respected and highly-decorated play-by-play announcers in all of college sports. He's been honored as the National Sports Media Association's Indiana Sportscaster of the Year 27 times, and earlier this summer was awarded the prestigious National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame's Chris Schenkel Award. He was also awarded with the Indiana University Bicentennial Award in 2019 in recognition for his enormous contributions to Indiana University and IU Athletics.
